DISASTROUS WRECK

o the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheel ing Railroad,

At a Point Near Beach City--- A Fire man Killed, a Brakeman Fatally Injured and two Tramps Badly Bruised... The Particulars of the Accident.

A disastrous wreck occurred on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad, about three quarters of a mile from Beach City, at 3 o'clock this morning. Freight train No. 20, northbound, left Canal Dover at 1 o'clock, and was followed by the second section one hour later. At a point near the Tuscarawas and Stark county line the second section crashed into the caboose of the first section, utterly demolishing it, mashing several cars and killing one man outright, and three others are probably fatally injured.

Fireman C. W. Lehman, of Belden, O., was sleeping in the caboose, and was killed outright. He had made only three trips over the road, and being tired out was going to his home in Belden to take a rest. He had laid down in the caboose and was fast asleep when the accident occurred. His body was pinioned seneath the wreck and was badly burned. The trainmen made every effort to extricate him but without success.

John McConnell, a brakeman living at Lorain, was badly bruised and burned. His injuries are such that he will probably die. Physicians consider his chances for recovery very slim. Two tramps, whose names could not be learned, were riding on the bumpers between two cars at the rear end of the first section, and both were badly injured.

The body of Lehman was taken Dover, where it now lies awaiting the coming of relatives. McConnell and the two tramps who were injured were also taken to Dover.

The conductor of the rear freight train which crashed into the first section, was seen by the NEWS-DEMOCRAT representa tive. He stated that he had received orders at Dover to go ahead, and was informed that the other train had preceded him an hour, "We were running along at a good rate of speed," said he, "when without warning, near a small ravine our engine dashed into the caboose of the other train, and plowed its way through, de molishing the caboose and wrecking four cars. Our engineer did not notice the other train until too late to stop the train. The other train must have stalled on the grade as it was heavily loaded. We were running about twenty miles an hour."

Austin A. Hay, a Beach City merchant was at the scene of the wreck at an early hour this morning. He stated to the reporter that the scene this morning was a terrible one. The injured men had not yet been removed and their moans were pitiful to hear.

From the information gleaned by Mr. Hay several hours before the NEWS-DEMOCRAT reporter's arrival. seems that the front train stalled the grade and that the flagman was sent back to flag the second train and avert a disaster. The flagman had proceeded but a short distance from the caboose when the other train appeared. It was then too late to stop the oncoming train.

Coroner Openheimer was in Massillon this morning and heard of the accident there. He repaired at once to the office of the railroad and inquired for particulars. Upon inquiry it was learned that the wreck occurred just over the line in Tuscarawas county. The coroner having no jurisdiction in that county did not visit the scene of the wreck.

Considerable doubt is expressed as to the question in which county the disaster occurred. A gentleman well acquainted in that section stated that the wreck oc curred just on the line. Another said that it was about 60 feet in Tuscarawas county The latter is probable correct. Coroner Openheimer returned to Canton this after-

Aged John H. Brenner Dies Suddenly in His Chair at Seattle, Washington---Heart Disease the Cause of His Death.

The friends and relatives of John H Brenner, an aged and highly respected citizen who lived just east of the city limits on the the Waynesburg road since 1857, are pained to learn of his sudden death at Seattle, Washington, whither he had gone on a visit to his youngest daughter Ada, who is married to U. R. Niesz, brother of J. F. Niesz. Letters received a few days ago spoke of the good health of Mr. Brenner feeling good and looking well. The following message received last evening at 4:45 was a sad one indeed:

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.
J. F. NIESZ: Pa Brenner died in his chair in the presence of us all, without apparent pain or struggle at eight o'clock this morning. Having him embalmed for taking home for burial. U. R. Niesz. The time of the funeral will be announce ed later, as it will take four and a half or ed later, as it will take four and a half or five days for the homeward journey.

Mr. Brenner was one of Stark county's most successful farmers, after the Lancaster county, Pa., style, having removed from there to this county in 1857. He was president of the Farmers' Bank of Canton from its organization until Jan. 1st, 1890, when he resigned and sold his interest in the bank. He was always kind and liberal and highly respected by all.

A DOUBLE WEDDING

A delightful double wedding was solemnized at the residence of Judge Taylor at Carrollton at 10 o'clock this morning. The contracting parties being Harry B Stewart, ticket agent at the C. & C. depot this city, and Miss Minnie Taylor, and Mr. J. S. McNeely, a rising young attorney of Hamilton, O., and Miss Marie Taylor. The young ladies are both daughters of Judge Taylor, of Carrollton, and are leading society ladies. The beautiful marriage ceremony was performed in the presence of a few relatives and near friends by Rev. James H. Hawk. The wedding party leaves this evening for New Orleans, where they take in the Mardi Gras celebration, returning home in about a month. The parties have the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness.

LOUISVILLE'S MARSHAL ___

Arrested on a Serious Charge-Outcome of the Recent Landon Divorce

A warrant was issued in Squire Ringle's court this morning that is likely to cause quite a sensation in the village of Louisville when the arrest is made.

E. Morgan Landon, the complaining vitness swears in the affidavit that on January 31, 1890, Edward Roberts, marshal of the village of Louisville, assaulted him and without warrant, authority or cause forcibly placed him under arrest. He also claims that the marshal when making the arrest did unlawfully break into the house without any warrant or authority. This, he claims, is not the first time that the same thing has happened but on several occasions the marshall has, without any cause placed him under arrest.

It is said several sensations will be sprung during the trial as a few facts the cause of these frequent arrests are to be made known. Heretofore the marshal has borne good reputation and his character was supposed to have been above reproach. Constable Slagle left for Louisville at 1 o'clock this afternoon to place the man under arrest. It is stated that among the charges made against Roberts will be one to the effect that Roberts on different occasions placed Landon under arrest and then visited Lan-don's wife. Roberts' name was used in don's wife. Roberts' name was used in the Landon divorce case which was on trial before Judge Taylor several days ago, and in which case no decision has as yet been rendered. His connection with the case was freely talked of by the wit-nesses in attendance. The developments will doubtless be of an interesting charac

The Flight of Phil. Camp. Advices from Beach City announce that it is uncertain whether any forgeries can be shown against Phil. Camp, the horseman, who fled from his creditors. His debts are said to be the magnificent sum of $30,000. His relatives are covering over all crookedness, if any exists. Yesterday litigation began over the furniture in his house. His brother held a chattel mortgage for $1,000 upon it, and included were a wagon and box. In drafting the mortgage the justice left out "and," and hence only a wagon box was actually mortgaged. It was charged that the brother then inserted "and." and the endeavor was made to render void the whole instrument be-cause of this mutilation. The trial atcause of this mutilation. The trial at tracted a large crowd. The decision by the justice was against the brother, but an appeal was taken to the court. If the court sustains the justice, a German la porer will get the furniture on his claim. Massillonian.

They Settled the Case,

Quite a sensation was caused at Malvern last evening by the arrest of D. Bear and Peter Lenn at that place by Constable Weber, on the charge of embezzlement. Both parties are well known in that village. For some time past these two men have been representing the Penn Liquor Company of this city as agents in Malvern and had been handling quite a quantity of goods, for which they had failed to turn in the cash. The proprietors of the company here becoming suspicious yesterday, got out a warrent for their arrest in Squire Wettach's Court on the charge of embezzlement, the amount being $75. Last evening Constable Weber drove to Mal-vern and placed the men under arrest The case was settled this morning by the claim being paid.

Mahoning Street Love Story in Several Acts and Dramatic Situations.

Daughter Objects to Her Mother Who is a Widow, Receiving the Attentions of a Widower---Her Young Lover Tries to Eject the Aged Enamored One With Disastrous Results.

Mahoning street has lately been the scene of some novel and interesting incidents. The excitement grew out of the love affairs of a dashing young widow of some 37 years, named Mrs. Fisher, who lives at No. 101 Mahoning street, and whose ideas of a suiter did not exactly correspond with those held by her daugh ter Alice, a buxom lass of 18 summers For some time past the young lady of the household has been receiving the attentions of a youth named Fosnaught, who is engaged with a brother in the sale of meat, on East third street. Naturally the mother of the girl felt lonesome on these long winter evenings, while her daughter and beau were occupying the attentions of each other in the parlor, and recently she began to receive calls from one Jesse Finch, a carpenter and widower rooming at 722 East Tuscarawas street. But the course of true love never runs smoothly, and the daughter immediately filed a protest against her mother's receiving the at tention of Mr. Finch. Mrs. Fisher averred that she was equal to the task of selecting her own suitor and she took the opportunity to remined her offspring that she might attend to her own business. The young lady, however, was not so easily squelched, and, her young gentleman friend coming to the rescue, they both preceded with all the elo-quence at their command to induce the widow to abandon the widower and to provoke the widower to remain away from the dwelling of the widow. Their efforts availed naught however. The widow remained firm and the widower still called with increasing regularity. Last week matters reached a climax and on Friday night young Fosnaught repaired to the house of his lady love with the avowed determination of throwing but the expressions are simple to the second of the second out the carpenter when he came to pay his respects to Mrs. Fisher. He took along a companion to aid him in the unalong a companion to aid him in the un-dertaking and it was expected to handle the widower in such a manner as would conduce to keep him away thereafter. The widower however had prepared himself for emergencies and when the time came and his opposers appeared to eject him they found themselves staring into the muzzle of a revolver in the hands

ASSIGNEE DOUGLASS

Arrives in the City This Morning-The Du ber Assignment to be Ruised.

Assignee Howard Douglass, of the Dueber Watch Manufacturing Co., accompanied by his son, a bright young gentleman, just entering his teens, arrived in the city this morning from Cincinnati. Mr. Douglass is here solely in the interest of the Dueber company and expects to remain several days. To a News-Democrat reporter, this morning, he stated that he expected the election of directors at Springfield yesterthis city, which is left to his widow, and day," said Mr. Douglass, "puts things in a very favorable light, and greatly facilitates matters. We have been waiting for this election for some time and now that it has been made and the gentlemen placed at the head of the concern, we expect matters to assume definite shape." The Hampden Watch Company held their annual meeting at Springfield, Tuesday. Five directors were chosen, Messrs. W. W. Clark, Col. W. A. Moore and H.W. Harter, of this city, and Messrs, J. D. Safford and J. B. Stebbins, of Springfield. Mr. Stebbins is at the head of the Institute for Savings and Mr. Safford is president of the Springfield City National Bank. Mr. W. W. Clark was chosen president and treasurer of the company, and he will take active management of the works. Mr. Moore was given the position of vicepresident. The company also decided to apply for admission to the National Trade Association. Mr. Rood and Mr. Dueber retire as directors in the company. The business of the concern appears to be in good condition, as an annual dividend of en per cent. was declared.

THE SIEVER POUL

J. A. Owenby Appears, Accompanied by the Sergeant-at-Arms, and Gives Ele

Testimony Before the Commistee. WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.-The special house committee charged with the silver pool investigation continued its hearings yesterday. Representative Abner Taylor, of lilinois, testified that he was never approached by any person and requested to purchase silver. Mr. Taylor said that he had purchased 43,900 ounces on the 17th of July at $1.09 3-4 and had sold it at $1.12 1-2 on Aug. 15. He was sorry that he had not purchased more and had not held it longer. He had no information as to any other person. speculating in silver. This was his only deal. He knew of no silver pool. His net profit on his speculation, he said, was about $800. He was in the habit of dealing in stocks before he came to congress and he did not surrender this right when he became a member. Owenby then appeared, accompanied by the sergeant-at-arms. The committee granted Mr. Owenby's request to have is attorney present. Mr. Owenby testified that he lived in New York, ness was a broker and associated O'Brien & Clark, of New York. was acquainted with Mr. Parsons, Ho Wells, Fargo & Co., and occupied desk room in his office in New York. Witness had personal knowledge of Persons Speculating in Silver during the past year. Had seen such accounts on books of Wells, Fargo & He did not remember seeing the name of any representative on these books. He had access to books of other firms buying and selling silver and other securities, among them those of the Hanover bank, New York. He had seen names on this book. He did not remember seeing the name of any senator or representative among them, but was shown what represented to be the correspondence of a senator by Mr. Donaldson, cashier of the bank, when they were talking about silver speculation and the possibility of the silver bill passing. Bonaldson picked up a paper and said it was the correspondence of (telling him the name of a senator) who was in it and would vote for the bill. Possibly Donaldson had mentioned other names he could not remember without reference to his books and memoranda which were in a safety vault in Chicago. He refused to say in what vault. He incended to bring certain books and papers, but was rushed off in such a burry that he did not have time. He said he would telegraph for
